ALSOCK, Hungarian. Another Hungarian of IMC's "calibre", but only even more wealthy than the latter. Through his collaboration with the Japanese he made his fortune. Had he any political connections with them, or not, is unknown, but he was a supplier on a grand scale of war materials to the Japanese. In one of the last American bombings of Shanghai, some bombs were dropped in Hongkew on the godowns, and a fire was started near the godown where this person had about 400 drums (of 50 gallons) of various engine oils ready for sale to the Japanese Navy, but his cargo miraculously escaped destruction. He has an out-of-town residence somewhere in the Hongjiao area, where it is believed he is living at present. He was seen a few days ago in his motor-car in the vicinity of Avenue Joffre and Cardinal Mercier. (C-3).

SHUTO, fm

SHUTO (首 東) ALIAS CHEN PING (陳 斌) SHUTO, former translator in the Japanese Gendarmerie of the Northern District of Shanghai, confessed that he had been arrested by the Gendarmerie in Hankow in 1939 and subsequently escorted to the Gendarmerie of the Northern District of Shanghai. On being tried by YOKONATA (楊 烟 曹 長) Chief of the Gendarmerie, he was found to be a Korean, and on this account YOKONATA kept a watchful eye on him. (YOKONATA went to WUHSI (無 錫) in May 1945 and is believed to be still there. TAMURA succeeded YOKONATA at that time).

After one year's imprisonment, he was freed and served as an office boy in the Gendarmerie Office for more than one year and he was then promoted again to be translator. In May, 1942, he resigned and worked as manager in the Royal Cafe on Suobling Well Road, No. 878-880.

According to recent investigation, he has changed his name to CHEN Ping () & has been appointed Department Chief of the Liaison Office of the Hoozung-Shanghai Area (胡 淩 聯絡處) and granted the title of Major.

CHEN-Ping gives his telephone number as 38488.

CHEN-Ping said that he is now an official of the Chinese organization International Intelligence Investigation Office. (國際知識調查處). This office is exposed to suspicion in many respects, as it includes not only TAI II agents, but also many former Japanese double-agents. Its general tendency is anti-foreign.

KASHIN. On 22 September 1945, SUBJECT was approached by Colonel AMAYA (of the Japanese Military Mission, TOKORO KIKAN). Address unknown, telephone number heard as "44664". AMAYA instructed KASHIN to get in contact with O.A.K. WITFINSKY (Lithuanian or Latvian, ex -D.S.I. of the Shanghai Municipal Police). Purpose
